

Sat. Feb. 17th.

Dear mam,

Will Law and myself celebrated our year overseas last night. I got pretty drunk and he didnt do bad - the first time I've been drunk in over a year.

Say enclosed you will find some pics We took at the next camp. We took most of them when we went for a hike and picnic in the mountains. The girls are two nurses that went up the same time we did. We forgot spoons to eat out "C" ration so we had to make chopsticks out of wood. The staff sergeant sitting in front of the lake is a swell guy, he works in the out patient clinic next to the lab. The two guys on the wall are Law and our first sergeant - Law is on the right with the flight jacket on.

The pictures aren't so good but Sam and I developed and printed them ourselves at it was our first time.

Well there really isn't much to write at present. am o.k. and feeling fine.

your loving son,

Jimmie
