

Wednesday, 27th June

Dear Mary,

Hit the jackpot to-day - received three letters from you besides some others and a box of canned goods and a small fruit cake mailed 28th of March. I got a letter from Sam to-day saying that he was going back to his outfit. Gee, I hope he gets home soon. (Say how about sending me some shrimp, candy, and funny books if possible. I received the ballot but I didn't know much about the set up and I'm not voting until I do. I wanted to vote for Mr. Shast and I am pulling for him to be elected but I'm not voting until I get home!

Gee, I'm glad Jimmy is home, I'll write to him to-night. I'll bet Mr. & Mrs. Hupp are really happy.

I'm sorry to hear that W.B. died. He was always swell to me, especially when I used to stay up at Mama Jumbo quite a bit. What caused his death so suddenly?

Guess later on to-night Ross, Smitty, myself, and a few others will go down to the nearby Village. Go into a little open front restaurant and eat peanuts and drink a few bottles of wine. Will sit there until about 10:30 talking about home etc. and then go up to bed. We have a couple all over China - have to be in bed at 11:00

The boys are about ready to go so guess I'd better sign off now. am o.k. and feeling fine.

Yours loving son,

Jamesie

P.S. How is everything going with the stores?? You aren't working too hard, are you?!
